SMALL CHANGES ADD UP

If 10,000 NY Biters burn one veggie-based pillar candle instead of petroleum-based one every month, we'll avert the weight of over 300 boyfriends in oil-based waxes from being produced every year.

COCKTAIL FACT

A recent study shows that roommates can better predict the duration of your relationship than you can.

A New Flame

Feb 29, 2008

The Bite

Looking for love in all the wrong places? Spark up a relationship with Joya's edgy new Perfume in Porcelain candle pots. These vegetable-based wax candles come in totally unique, provocative scents like Gunpowder Green Tea and Orange Blossom & Pale Musk. And eco-artist Sarah Cihat has lent her tattoo-inspired, hand-stenciled designs (skulls with swords, octopi, and peacocks) to each mini porcelain container, creating cool, one-of-a-kind gems you can burn anywhere. Best of all, these clean-burning candles are handmade right here in NYC and without petroleum-based ingrediends and have lead-free, cotton wicks that won't float toxins into the air - so you can fan the flames without getting burned.

Wanna Try?

Joya Candles Perfume in Porcelain Collection, available at Bergdorf Goodman, 754 Fifth Ave. at 57th St. (718-852-6979). Perfume in Porcelain candle, $48.
